

CIVIL CITATION OVERVIEW

Marion County Juvenile Civil Citation Program is an individualized diversion program in lieu of arrest for youth (ages 13-17) who have committed a specified first time misdemeanor offense or violated a city or municipal ordinance. Law enforcement has the discretion to issue a civil citation instead of arrest based on Florida Statute 985.12. The Civil Citation Program works with community partners in the effort to reduce juvenile crime and to provide services for at-risk youth.

To participate in the Civil Citation program, youth must accept responsibility for the offense and agree to participate in the program immediately.

There is a $25.00 participation fee. The fee must be paid in full within 30 days of the orientation meeting with the Civil Citation Staff member.

The Marion County Civil Citation Program holds youth accountable for their actions and offers immediate intervention without arrest. Consent of the parent or guardian must be given for the youth to enter the program. Throughout the program, it is expected that the guardian be supportive of the juvenile's participation.

With successful completion of the program, the youth will not have a formal criminal record, can deny arrest, and is eligible for future expunction, if applicable, under Florida Statute S 943.0585.

If the youth fails to successfully complete the requirements of the program, or is charged with another crime while in the program, the case will be referred back to the Law Enforcement Agency for the possible initiation of arrest procedures.
